At this time, the internet has become a major need. The internet is not only limited to adults, many children are good at using gadgets and internet. This is due to many factors, for example parents who buy gadgets for them as a gift for an achievement. The internet can have both positive and negative impacts. Negative impacts can be in the form of bullying, cybercrime, gaming addiction, and personal information exposure. The role of parents is very important in limiting the use of gadgets and internet in their children. Every parent should have an obligation to monitor what their children are doing on their gadgets. To minimize the negative impact of the internet, especially on children, a practical solution is needed, for example by providing education about cybercrime in schools. Education is very important for children to prepare for their future. Before children go deeper into the internet, especially social media, cybercrime education in schools is important. Education about cybercrime is very important for all people and requires good cooperation between parties such as the government, teachers, parents, and the citizens.
